Streifeneder ortho.production GmbH Komet relief shoes and other highlights

Streifeneder ortho.production (Emmering, Munich, Germany) have prepared a range of newly developed orthotic and prosthetic products for OTWorld. One focus, in the field of orthotics, is on the pressure relief shoe, Komet. This therapeutic shoe is designed for the outdoors and includes features such as an antibacterial finish, together with a non-slip, patterned outer sole. Moreover, the company have announced some groundbreaking innovations, especially in the field of prosthetics. Nor are orthopaedic technicians ignored in the mix: in the live workshop, the staff at the Streifeneder training centre, ortho.training, will be providing practical tips and processing information.
